The Difference in the Price Paid for Pick and Machine Coal to Be the Principal Question to Be Considered-Conference Held in Regard to the Adjustment of Wages.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 22.-The United Mine Workers of America resumed the sessions of their annual convention at greater than for many years.

It is officially stated that the principa question to come before the convention is the difference in price paid for pick and machine-mined coal. This differential is not in just proportion, it is claimed. Machine mining, in the last few years, has made rapid strides toward deposing the pick miner and now it is estimated that 23 per cent of the coal mined is dug out machines. It is said the discontent of the increases with the further intro-ction of machines and there must be a can no longer be positive resistance.

The two outside States are recognized as competitive States, and the operators are forced to pay the wage scale adopted by the inter-State conventions. The miners say the operators in the inter-State agreement have no reason to keep the others out, and some say it is only a move to divide the organization of the miners among themselves, thus decreasing their strength. The two outside delegations will make a demand upon the convention for recognition and use every effort to have the matter disposed of at once. In Michigan there is not an employe about a mine under the jurisdiction of the union who is not a member.
